The Order of Canada is a national honor/honour recognition established in Canada in 1967 as the Canadian equivalent of England's issuing of knighthoods and damehoods. One source informed, "As of January 2024, 8,375 people have been appointed to the Order, including scientists, musicians, politicians, artists, athletes, business people, film stars and benefactors." The appointment is presented by the Governor General of Canada, as the representative of the English monarch.
